Case Study by Nelson Labs

Harmful effects of using old/used Cartons Boxes in packing of Household Items

Have you ever noticed old cartons purchased from kabaddi generally stored near to dirty place or public toilet floors, then go directly to client by a unprofessional packing company. Then goods i.e. toys of children, clothes, kitchen materials Happens to get packed in these and it matters a lot .

It's not always the outside 'restaurant food' that causes stomach distress. Sometimes 'what you don't know will hurt you!'

Old cartons which being used for your hhg, clothes, your children toys, your kitchen wares etc how these effects your health..?

We, at Nelson Laboratories in Salt Lake, we set out to test the average house on delivery by packing company and cartons from unpacking their in...It turns out cartons are so surprisingly dirty, even the microbiologist who tested them was shocked.

Microbiologist Amy Karen of Nelson Labs says nearly all of the cartons tested were not only high in bacteria, but high in harmful kinds of bacteria.

Pseudomonas can cause eye infections; staphylococcus aureus can cause serious skin infections and salmonella and e-coli found on the cartons boxes could make people very sick.

In one sampling, four of five carton boxes tested positive for salmonella, and that's not the worst of it.

'There is faecal contamination on the carton boxes says experts. People with kids tended to have dirtier than those without, with one exception.

The such carton boxes had one of the worst contaminations of all. 'Some type of faeces or possibly vomit,' says Amy.

So the moral of this story is that your these shifting won't kill you, but it does have the potential to make you very sick if you keep it on places where you eat.

Experts say you should think of your c/b the same way you would a pair of shoes.

'If you think about putting a pair of shoes on your countertops, that's the same thing you're doing when you put your stuff on the countertops.'

Your c/b has come from where individuals before you have walked, sat, sneezed, coughed, spat, urinated, emptied bowels, etc!

Do you really want to bring that home with you?

DO YOU KNOW WHY ?

25% of your LED / LCD sets come in service stations for repairs within 4 years of purchase, where as manufactures claim conditional warranty of 9 years as product life.

Increasing complaints about damage to LED Television

APML started receiving high number of complaints about malfunctioning of television sets after 5-6 months of relocation. An in-depth study of all the relocations that happened in the previous year revealed that during the transfer once the television was packed in the wooden crate it had to be sealed using nails (Exhibit 6). In the process of sealing, the crate was hammered 45-48 times causing damage to the delicate circuits of LED/ LCD televisions. The problems reflected after a few months. It was clearly a problem with the method that was being used for packing TVs.

Having identified the root problem, the R&D team at APML, under the guidance of management, started working on possible combinations to offer a solution to the issue. After 15 days of research on designs, the team came up with a solution that also resulted in reduced cost to the client. 'LED Box' was a box like container specifically designed to store television sets during relocation process (Exhibit 6). The box was layered with soft cushion from inside to provide extra protection to the screen, had a shock absorbing sheet, and was rugged from outside to face the inclement weather conditions. On the cost part, the box was a 'win win' situation for the company as well as its client. Since the manufacturing cost of a wooden crate was INR 800 with just one time use; whereas an LED Box with a manufacturing cost of INR 2,500 could be reused upto 14 times which brought down the cost of one time use to INR 200. This benefit was ultimately passed on to the customers who were now required to pay less for a much superior service.

Also, because of the innovation upto 160 trees were saved per year, which was very much in line with APML's Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) objective.

Wooden Crate

- High value LED/LCD TVs are packed in wooden crates made by hammering nails to close any opening in crate.
- Hammer blows leads to breakage of TVs fine circuitry & reduces its life.
- Making one crate involves 45 hammer blows & 1 hammer blow reduces 1 month of TV life. 45 hammers reduces 45-50 months of TV Life.
- Each shifting reduces your TVs life by 4-4.5 years.

Specially Designed LED Box (Innovation)

- Specialized reusable boxes tailor made for high value fragile items like LED/LCD TVs.
- Well designed with hard exterior for external safety & soft interior shell with foam cushion for screen protection.
- Available in various sizes to suite all your LED/LCD TV sizes requirement.
- Packing cost reduced from Rs.800/- to Rs.200/- per LED/LCD TV packing.

Shifting of household items “NOT AN ART BUT A BIG SCIENCE - FACTS TO MAKE YOU REALIZE”

It is needless to impress upon that whenever a household goods are shifted from one place to another or from one city to another one, we also shift their past experiences, their attachment with old house, sweet/sour memories relations with their relatives/neighbors'. Most of the people face nearly 40% of common problems which generally remain unanswered before, during and after shifting of their household goods. On the basis of our past experiences, we have been able to analyze some of such common problems which are enumerated as under.

Goods booked through General Cargo Carrier

(a) Now coming to third important point of annual loss of about Rs. 1800 crores due to transshipment of Household Goods (HHG). Customers may not be aware of transshipment losses and as such, they have to be explained about transshipment losses. In simple words, they are required to be explained that in 70% of the cases that the consignments to be transported are not of full container load and hence, it is booked as 'partial load' which cannot move without adjustment with other goods. It becomes essential for the transporter initially to store the HHG in his godown and shift in some other truck bound for the same direction.

(a) Sometimes the customer's book full container load from their side paying full amount but due to availability of additional space, the drivers used to load other goods also and thus displacing the original loading position of goods which cause damages to the goods of the customers.

Solution:

To overcome this problem, the APML have developed unique concept of cubes. We, as market leader in HHG shifting never allow transshipment. We have all types/sizes of containers and according to the requirements, even part load is done exclusively for each customer for which, they are charged accordingly, meaning thereby there is absolutely zero space loss. Even the clients are allowed to put their own locks retaining the keys with them. Even if the carrier fails at Highways, the entire goods would remain intact inside the cube. The goods inside the cube remain untouched and unseen. Under these circumstances, the cubes are simply lifted and placed on some other carrier, thus avoiding not only transshipment but zero damage as well.

Our research has also found that in 6-7% cases, even full truck gets breakdown on Highways which necessitates shifting the HHG on another truck. These actions are commonly known as transshipment and they cause damages, losses and shortages.

Thus, it could be substantiated that entrustment of HHG to APML denotes handing over in safe hands for safe transportation, because our action speaks our trust. In fact, APML denotes ASSURANCE.
